

Initiative 747 would prevent local government services from keeping pace with inflation. Supporters say special elections could be held to fully fund firefighters, police and other public safety services affected. But elections cost time and money.

“I don’t want my firefighter to be a campaigner and a politician... begging for support. I want him to be a full-time firefighter.”

— Former Secretary of State Ralph Munro,
Republican, who opposes Initiative 747.

Public safety is the wrong place to cut.
