

Monday, January 25, 2010

Washington State Labor Council, M. L. King County Labor Council and Seattle Building Trades, AFL-CIO present an absolute MUST for Union recordkeeping.

LM Reporting Workshop

Learn exactly what EVERY Union NEEDS to know...

Presenter:

John Lund, Director, Office of Labor-Management Standards (OLMS), US Department of Labor
OLMS enforces most provisions of the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act. This law regulates annual financial reports filed by unions, union officers and employees, employers and labor-management consultants. It also provides safeguards to ensure free and fair union officer elections, administration of trusteeships and fiduciary responsibilities of union officers and employees.

Topics:

1. What's new at OLMS?
2. Making sure your recordkeeping system collects the records you need to keep.
3. Common misunderstandings and mistakes in LM reporting.

Where:

Painter's Training Facility
6770 East Marginal Way South
Building E
Seattle, WA 98108

Cost:

FREE

Time:

1-4pm

To attend this workshop:

Although this workshop is free we need an accurate head count of participants. Please email Karen White, kwhite@WSLC.org, with the subject line "LM Reporting" or call Karen at 206-281-8901 ext. 14 with your name, labor organization and contact information.

Register by emailing Karen White, kwhite@WSLC.org, or calling 206-281-8901 ext. 14 with your name, labor organization and contact information.