

Reforming Our Workplace Safety and Health Laws

A Town Hall Meeting from 10 a.m. to noon
Saturday, June 19

South Seattle Community College's Georgetown campus
(6737 Corson Ave. South, Seattle)

The public is invited to discuss the “Protecting America’s Workers Act,” national legislation to reform the Occupational Safety and Health laws. In Washington State, this legislation would improve upon our state work safety laws by allowing union and victim participation in safety investigations, enhanced penalties, more effective whistleblower protections, and more.

Speakers will include:

Steve Hecker, Professor, UW School of Environmental and Health Sciences
Steve Garey, USW Union Representative, Tesoro Refinery in Anacortes, WA
Tom O’Connor, Executive Director, National Council for Occupational Safety and Health
Michael Wood, Administrator, Oregon OSHA
Chris Barton, RN, Secretary-Treasurer of SEIU Healthcare 1199 NW

For more information, contact Jeff Johnson or Lori Province at the Washington State Labor Council, 206-281-8901.